Re: New York Independent System Operator, Inc., Amendment to Proposed Tariff Revisions; Docket No. ER12-2598-00_.

Dear Ms. Bose:

On September 7, 2012,<sup>1</sup> the New York Independent System Operator, Inc. ("NYISO") submitted proposed tariff revisions in this docket to its Open Access Transmission Tariff (OATT) Rate Schedule 1 to enable the NYISO to access additional funds, when needed, in order to resolve shortfalls in revenues recovered from its Transmission Customers to fund the NYISO's annual operating costs and Commission-assessed regulatory fees ("Operating Costs" or "budget").

The NYISO has become aware of clarifications in the proposal that are necessary to avoid confusion. The further amendments that the NYISO is proposing herein add explanatory revisions to the tariff sections previously submitted but do not propose substantive changes to the proposal. Specifically, the NYISO proposes the following revisions:

The NYISO proposes to delete the word "fully" in Sections 6.1.2 and 6.1.2.5 to clarify the potential that the use of non-physical market activity contributions for ISO budget costs may not completely eliminate a previous year's budget revenue shortfall.

The NYISO proposes to recognize, and accommodate, the likelihood that during a calendar year in which the NYISO is using non-physical market activity revenue to fund the previous year's budget revenue shortfall, there will likely be one month where non-physical market activity revenue is used for two purposes. These revisions appear in the definition of the term NonPhysicalActivityRevenue<sub>P</sub> in Section 6.1.2.5. The revisions indicate that in the month in which the NYISO uses non-physical market activity revenue to complete the pay off of the previous year's budget revenue shortfall, the NYISO will rebate back to Transmission Customers with physical market activity the remaining balance of non-physical market activity revenue collected that month.

To further support this clarification, the NYISO proposes to change the second tariff reference in the opening paragraph of Section 6.1.2.5 from 6.1.2.2 to 6.1.2.
