Re: Docket No. ER15-1061-000, New York Independent System Operator – Notice of Effective Date

Dear Secretary Bose:

On February 18, 2015, the NYISO filed proposed tariff revisions related to its Comprehensive Shortage Pricing project.¹ On April 20, 2015, the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (“Commission”) approved the proposed revisions.² The Commission directed the NYISO to establish an effective date for the tariff revisions “in November 2015, subject to the condition that NYISO provide the Commission with no less than two weeks’ notice of the actual effective date.”³

On October 16, 2015, the NYISO submitted a request for an extension in order to delay implementation of the revisions to Section 2.20 of the Services Tariff and Section 1.20 of the OATT.⁴ The requested extension was the result of the delayed implementation of a separate project – the graduated transmission demand curve.⁵ The Commission granted the requested extension on October 23, 2015 and directed the NYISO “to submit a compliance filing at least two weeks prior to the proposed effective date for section 2.20 of the Services Tariff and section 1.20 of the OATT, which will specify the date on which these revisions will take effect.”⁶

⁶ Docket No. ER15-1061-000, supra, Notice of Extension of Time (October 23, 2015).

On October 20, 2015, the NYISO submitted a compliance filing to inform the Commission that the effective date for all of the tariff revisions related to the Comprehensive Shortage Pricing project, except the revisions to Section 2.20 of the Services Tariff and Section 1.20 of the OATT, would be November 4, 2015. The Commission issued an order accepting this filing on November 18, 2015.⁷

The NYISO submits this filing to provide notice to the Commission of the expected effective date for the accepted tariff revisions to Section 2.20 of the Services Tariff and Section 1.20 of the OATT related to the Comprehensive Shortage Pricing project.

⁹ Should the NYISO determine that it will be unable to implement the revisions to Section 2.20 of the Services Tariff and Section 1.20 of the OATT for the February 11, 2016 market day, it will promptly notify its Market Participants and the Commission.
